How It All Began

My journey with coffee began beside my grandmother, who taught me traditional Arabic coffee roasting and serving techniques in her Majlis. Though exposed to various coffee chains in Dubai later, nothing matched the authentic Arabic coffee experience.

A breakthrough came in 2010 when I discovered specialty coffee at a small New York café. Inspired, I spent five years exploring coffee shops worldwide, then pursued formal education at Bellissimo Coffee Advisors in Oregon. I obtained my barista certification from the Specialty Coffee Association, studied coffee farming in Vietnam and Ethiopia, and completed an MBA from CASS Business School London.

This comprehensive experience – from traditional Arabic methods to modern specialty coffee, formal training, and business education – culminated in the creation of The Espresso Lab.
